Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context (Issues in Social Policy)

by Grazia Borrini-Feyerabend

Partnerships for Protection: New Strategies for Planning and - Google Books Result Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Format: Book Series: Issues in Social Policy. Publisher. IUCN, Gland Collaborative management of protected areas: tailoring the approach to the context. - IUCN additional economic and social challenges. In this context, the example of participatory protected area management in the Rodna ment is the main policy- and decision-making body with respect to protected areas (known as collaborative management) is generally referred to as a protected area. tailoring the approach to the context. REFERENCES CITED - FAO In the case of a collaborative agreement, the failure by one party to comply, even if management cannot succeed in the absence of a favourable policy context, of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Issues in Social Policy First Nations Cooperative Management 1 Dec 2001 Privately owned protected areas have emerged as one option. owned parks, let alone place them in a larger conservation context. has called for greater attention to social and political issues in protected areas. Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Embracing collaborative protected area management for. The IUCN protected area definition and associated management categories are context. governance covers a broad range of issues - from policy to practice, from (management equity), is key to preventing and solving social conflicts, and Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the context. Beyond Fences: A resource book - Google Books Result Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Front Cover. Grazia Borrini to the Context Issues in Social Policy Series. governance principles for protected areas in the. - epub @ SUB HH Borrini-Feyerabend, G (1996) Collaborative Management of Protected Areas, tailoring the approach to the context. Issues in Social Policy, IUCN, Gland Christie. Collaborative Management of - IUCN Portals Issues in Social Policy. COLLABORATIVE MANAGEMENT OF PROTECTED AREAS: TAILORING THE APPROACH TO THE CONTEXT. Grazia Borrini- Partnership for facilitating sustainable protected area management. 1.1 Evolution of the protected area approach ment or collaborative management arrangements protected areas are actively being also adapted to the changing context of PA and biodiversity conservation. management objectives, provide sustainable ecological, social and economic benefits and respond to. Ecology and Society: The Right Connections: How do Social. Collaborative management of protected areas: Tailoring the approach to the context. Issues in social policy. Gland: IUCN. Boyle, T.J. & Boonchoob Boontawe Facilitating community-based conservation initiatives - DoC Draft Message from WG4 on Collaborative Management of. Why then is protected area governance such a central issue in Asia? the natural environment to include the improvement of social cohesion, differing entitlements and interests and may require tailored policies and. complexities unique to each context. Collaborative management of protected areas: Tailoring the - Ecolex 14 Mar 2012 Borrini-Feyerabend, G. (1996) Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Issues in Social Policy. (PDF) Pastoralists and wildlife conservation in western China. Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context, Issues in Social Policy, IUCN, Gland, Switzerland. Borrini-Feyerabend, G. (1996) Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context. Issues in Social Policy. Key resources – Page 6 – ICCA Consortium IUCN Commission on Environmental Economic and Social Policy proposed approach to conducting protected area governance assessments at here are to be applied cautiously and wisely, and always adapted to the particular context. Collaborative Management of Protected Areas, Tailoring the Approach to the. Towards Effective Protected Area Systems - Convention on. Collaborative approaches within natural resource management 15. 2.5 government agencies may set strategies and prepare plans and policies, their ultimate success this context that biodiversity conservation initiatives have to be understood. means of encouraging community members to consider issues of common. The Stewardship Approach and its Relevance for Protected. - jstor Buy Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the Approach to the Context (Issues in Social Policy) on Amazon.com FREE SHIPPING on Perils and Promise of Privately Owned Protected Areas BioScience. Key words: governance natural resources social network analysis social. Adaptation and mitigation to global as well as local environmental problems to social learning, and to enable development of integrated policy approaches. Collaborative management of protected areas: tailoring the approach to the context. Guide to Theme 4: Improving the Social Benefits of Protected Areas. Guide to. ment and management of protected areas and provide an effective policy framework. 51. 3.2.1. Context: a brief overview of the issue and why it is important iv. Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the. Collaborative management of protected areas: tailoring the approach to the context. It offers a broad definition of the approach and provides a number of examples of how it has been specifically tailored to different contexts. Social Policy Collaborative Management of Protected Areas: Tailoring the. Collaborative management of protected areas: Tailoring the approach to the context. Author: Borrini-Feyerabend G. Date: 1996 Source: IUCN (ID: MON-059279). patterns and extent of threats to the protected areas of bangladesh Issues in Social Policy. COLLABORATIVE MANAGEMENT OF PROTECTED AREAS: TAILORING THE APPROACH. TO THE CONTEXT. IUCN. The World Embracing Collaborative Protected Area Management for. - BioOne Tools based in experience, to be tailored for future use. 2.3 Legal Foundations for Cooperative Management...